We are trying to make a cheap computer for testing that will be ubuntu only. We need to connect it to the router. Is there a USB-serial cable for it? go to manufacturers website usually it's built in hmm no it isn't well do u have a pc im guessing? NastyNaz, no. no computer at all. NastyNaz: Are the chipsets in the cheap laptops specific to ubuntu? Guest__: well i'm guessing you're not looking to set up like a router but just connect to the internet B0bsF1sh: yes that is basically it NastyNaz, I know I am. Guest__: cool man. go to the manufacturers website. they usually have a web page with info on it. !info wvdial | Guest__ Guest__: wvdial (source: wvdial): PPP dialer with MS-CHAP authentication. In component main, is optional. Version 1.60-3 (raring), package size 66 kB, installed size 264 kB hello. when i run a apt-get update it fails with a 404 error. any clue why? from apache httpd logs the error shows a 404 error on the index.php file. but the index.php file is not on the server. how can i fix this? any snort users around? i'm trying to compile from source, I just get this error message. dpkg-buildpackage: error: fakeroot debian/rules binary gave error exit status 2 ubuntuaddicted: your package is wrong? how so? ubuntuaddicted: is this for snort? yes ubuntuaddicted: it 82157476af
